

FRASSATI CELEBRATES CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

By Kirsten Bobber

Learn. Serve. Lead. Succeed. These attributes were the focal points of recent celebrations at Frassati Catholic Academy during Catholic Schools Week held Jan. 28–Feb. 3.

Living the Faith

At Frassati, students are encouraged to find ways to live out the Beatitudes as did the school's patron, Blessed Pier Giorgio Frassati. This year, faculty developed a new Beatitudes program to recognize and reward students who demonstrate a Beatitude such as mercy or peacemaking.

Sheila Kennedy-Dalton, Frassati preschool teacher said, "I love that throughout the day the students can learn about their faith and build their relationship with God. It makes it a better school environment to be able to build their love of learning and faith together."

Developing Leaders

Principal Tammy Kleckner said, "Graduates from our school are well rounded and have a strong foundation for their academic success in high school and beyond. Many students are consistently placing in advanced classes upon entering high school, both in core subjects and in Spanish."

Frassati Catholic Academy is the regional Catholic elementary and middle school serving children in preschool through 8th grade of St. Mary of the Annunciation, Santa Maria del Popolo, Transfiguration parishes and surrounding communities. The school educates students on two campuses, Mundelein and Wauconda. Bus service and before and after school care are available, as is financial aid for those who qualify.

Enrollment has begun for 2018-19. For more information, call Sunni Butler, Marketing Director, at 847-526-6311, or visit www.frassaticatholicacademy.org.
